

Did You Know

By Pat J. Kirwin

THAT Wade H. Cook, E. Main-st., has a carbon copy of an order he received on September 18, 1901, while serving as a telegraph operator in the Pennsylvania railroad offices here, advising all trains to stop and all work to cease for a period of 10 minutes in memory of assassinated President McKinley, whose funeral services were held the next day.

The message was sent by W. W. Varney, chief dispatcher of the Zanesville division of the Pennsylvania, and was received here at 1:16 p. m., Sept. 18. Addressed to all agents and operators, it read:

"The funeral services of the late President McKinley will commence at Canton, O., at 1:30 p. m. (central time) tomorrow; commencing at 1:30 p. m. and continuing for 10 minutes every train on this line will stop; all agents and operators will discontinue work commencing at 1:30 p. m. for a period of 10 minutes.

"Signed, W. W. Varney."

While funeral services were being held at Canton on Sept. 19, 1901, for the dead President who was shot at the Buffalo exposition on Sept. 6, a divine memorial service was held in the Memorial Hall here. Ministers of every faith in the town participated in the service, presided over by Judge A. R. Van Cleaf.

A copy of the program outlining parts of the service is also in the possession of Mr. Cook. The program follows:

That on March 6, 1901, city council granted the first franchise for the construction of an electric traction line through Circleville, and on July 25, 1904, the first trip was made from Circleville to Reese Station, north of the city. The traction cars did not run from Circleville to Columbus until August 5 of that year.

McSchovar, Ford and Rose operated a cheese factory just outside of Yellowbud and in good times turned out 1,000 pounds of the dairy product each week. Yellowbud cheese was fairly well known throughout the country.

NEW ORLEANS UNDER POWER OF HUEY LONG

Louisiana State Senate Extends Him Powers of Dictator

CONTROLS POLICE

"Seabury" Probe of Huge City Planned

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 18.—Senator Huey P. Long's mailed fist was poised today to encircle the city of New Orleans in a vice-like stranglehold.

In a five-day extraordinary session, summoned at the Kingfish's command apparently with the single objective of giving him undisputed control of the rebellious seaport city, the Louisiana legislature endowed the long-dominated state administration with powers unknown in the south since the carpetbag era.

Long emerged today as Louisiana's uncrowned king—a dictator in fact, however unofficial.

CONTROLS POLICE

Meekly, in sessions marked by the rivalry of a burlesque show, the legislature gave the administration virtually unlimited police powers through a state constabulary and broad use of the state militia, with extraordinary powers of clemency, provided for a sweeping investigation of Long's enemies in the New Orleans municipal government, increased control of the election machinery, and, in measure after measure, struck telling the authority of Louisiana's self-proclaimed dictator.

STRATOSPHERE FLIGHT STARTS

European Scientists In Air; No News Yet Concerning Their Success.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A Reuters dispatch from Brussels this afternoon reported that the stratosphere balloon of Prof. Max Cosyns had descended within a mile of Saarbrücken, in the Saar valley.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 18.—After not having been reported for more than two hours, Professor Max Cosyns and his aide, Dr. Nere Van Der Elst, soaring through the stratosphere to study the cosmic rays, were sighted over Bueingen, in the Saar, at 11:15 a. m. today. Bueingen is about a mile and a half from Saarbrücken.

At noon a radio message was received from Cosyns, but it could not be understood.

It was not known at this time how high the bag had flown or with what success the scientists had met in studying the cosmic ray.

HOOR-HAVENNE, Belgium, Aug. 18.—A tiny speck in a clear blue sky, drifting slowly eastward across Europe at an altitude of more than three miles, today represented man's latest adventure in attempting to soar to new heights through the atmosphere enveloping this world.

It was the stratosphere balloon of the youthful Professor Max Cosyns who took off from a field near this village at 6:17 a. m. (1:17 a. m. New York time). Cosyns had with him Dr. Van Der Elst, a Dutch scientist, and the latest instruments for measuring the performance and determining the nature of the mysterious cosmic rays, which are best studied in the higher altitudes.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 18.—The Rev. R. H. Askew, Goldsboro, N. C. evangelist, who has been missing since last Tuesday, walked into the Nashville police station this morning after, he said, being released by four abductors ten miles from here.

Askew went into immediate conference with police. Details of the purported kidnapping were not insisted he hit-bibbed into Nashville after being released.

THRILLS OFFERED IN AIR EVENTS, SUNDAY

Preview Shows Many Features With Mackey, Others Appearing

WATCH CHUTE LEAP

Drop Of Mile Through Thin Air Planned

A last minute preview of plans for the annual "Air Day" to be held Sunday at the Stevenson field, three miles northwest of the city, indicates that an air show that is seldom seen outside of the National Air Races at Cleveland, will be presented.

Several of the outstanding events listed on the program will be the thrilling inverted acrobatic flying of Lieut. Joe C. Mackey, noted stunt and inverted flight ace and skywriter.

To Lieut. Mackey goes the credit of being the only pilot to ever fly 'up side down backwards' and is one of the very few stunt fliers who takes a ship aloft purely for inverted stunt flying.

ONE SLIP FATAL

However, it's all a part of his thrilling day's job but one where the slightest mistake may mean that his name may be obliterated from the headlines.

Then too, there is the one mile delayed parachute jump by "Canon Ball" Taylor Mast, of Mansfield; one of the premier delayed-parachute jumpers in the country. Dare Devil Mast will "ball-out" of an airplane flying 10,000 feet high and fail to release his chute until he has fallen more than one mile. He will carry a 50-pound sack of flour strapped to his shoulders and torn at the top to form a trail of his fall.

There is not a dull minute in the entire afternoon's program which includes ribbon cutting, balloon bursting and various other maneuvers. It starts at 2 o'clock.

AIRLINER THERE

One modern tri-motored Stinson luxury airliner will be on the field to take up the air-minded for a 15-mile air cruise for a nominal rate.

Included in the air show's personnel is a group of the most outstanding aeronautical personalities ever to congregate in this section of the state they are: Bill Sweet, prominent air race announcer and master of ceremonies, over the public address system to be stationed at the airport. He is said to be a show all himself with his genial and incessant chatter about the flyers while they are in the air; W. Myron Hightower, a veteran transport pilot flying the mammoth tri-motored transport plane, "Miss Circleville"; Captain Fred L. Smith, state director of aeronautics; Karl F. Steele, Jack (Loop King) Barrette, "Blimp" Radeghe, Lieut. Mackey, stunt ace John Corradi, president of the Corradi Flying Service at Port Columbus, and many others.

According to advance information the meet will be geared to high speed, fast action thrills and excitement.

Eight new type fast flying, fast diving airplanes are expected to take part in this aviation classic.

The local chapter of the National Aeronautical Association is sponsoring the "Air Day."

NAME 2 BANKS IN CREDIT PLAN

Third and Second National Banks Listed By Washington Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18.—Two Circleville, Ohio, banks today appeared on the list of "Home Honor Banks" announced by the Federal Housing Commission as among the financial institutions prepared to extend credit to property owners under the administration's modernization credit plan.

This is the latest step in the New Deal and will enable Circleville residents to modernize their homes and thus step up employment in this Ohio community.

The two banks, which appear on the list today among the first banks in the country to announce complete co-operation with Uncle Sam in his battle for recovery, are the Third National Bank and the Second National Bank.

James A. Moffett, housing administrator, announced that credit insurance already has been arranged with banks having resources of over 10 billions serving nearly 100 million people and that the Circleville banks are now an integral part of the gigantic recovery movement.

It was stated here today that in all probability all Circleville banks would be listed under the plan.

AGITATORS NAMED IN CHICAGO 'WAR'

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Communist agitators were blamed today for morning mob attacks on two buses and attempts to foment a city-wide transportation walkout in sympathy with striking employees of the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Ten police squads responded to a riot call when a mob of 1,000 men and women laid siege to two buses on West Jefferson-blvd early today. Rocks and ripe vegetables showered the vehicles, both of which carried passengers. An unsuccessful attempt, was made to overturn one bus.

Several bystanders and rioters were injured, none seriously. Arthur Zoller, 32, a bus driver, was struck on the head with a brick.

Broken glass, vegetables, stones and bricks littered the boulevard for three blocks in the zone of disorder.

One driver reported being kidnapped by a band of men. He said he was released after being threatened.

LOCAL THROG AIDS KINGSTON IN CENTENNIAL

Mayor Leads Huge Parade Through Streets Amid Loud Applause

EVENT SUCCESSFUL

Green, Red Fire, Music Add to Interest.

Scores of automobiles carrying nearly 1,000 Circleville citizens went to the Kingston centennial celebration to the Ross-co village Friday evening and put on the greatest demonstration that Kingston has seen in some time.

That the Kingstonians were highly appreciative of Circleville's visit was evidenced by the loud applause they gave the long parade of "roundtowners" that marched through the streets.

A long line of approximately 75 autos lined up at the Circleville high school building about 7:30 last evening and preceded by an official escort, Deputy Sheriff Bryan J. Custer and party, the caravan started on its way down the Kingston-pk.

LED BY MAYOR CADY

At Wright's filling station, just on the edge of Kingston, occupants left their autos and were joined by a large number of other Circlevilleans who had already arrived. The parade line was then formed, the American Legion drum corps leading, followed by Mayor W. B. Cady. Every one in the parade was handed a large torch, of either a green or red color, and the parade started.

The Circleville high school band led by its pretty little drum major, Miss Jane Littleton, was in the line of march, as usual sending out its shrilling, staccato numbers.

The parade was a novel sight as it marched amid a blaze of green and red fire through the streets of the little village which was just passing its 100-year mark. Hundreds of persons lined the streets, including several hundred Pickaway countians, to watch the parade.

After marching through the business section and down to the carnival section of the village, the parade disbanded and every one started to see the sights.

DEVOLT, ADELPHI SLAYER, CAUGHT

CHILLICOTHE, Aug. 18.—Layton Devolt, 31, who escaped June 17 from the London prison farm after serving 14 years of a life term for the hatchet murder of his father, Noah Devolt, Adelphi, was captured by Chicago detectives early Friday according to word received here.

When taken into custody Devolt gave the name of Curtis Anderson but his identity was later proved through Bertillon records.

When his true identity became known, Devolt admitted to detectives that he was an escaped prisoner from the London farm and told them about the offense for which he was committed.

Devolt and a man named John Anderson, 45, who had been sent up from Scioto-co on a statutory charge, escaped together.

With Devolt's capture, John P. Phillips, Jr., local attorney, who was the prosecutor at the trial, breathed a sigh of relief. After Devolt, a youth of seventeen at the time of his conviction, had been sentenced to a life term, he swore to Phillips that "I'll get you some day for this." Phillips recalled the threat when the boy escaped.

WEST TO AID VIC DONAHEY

Pledges Support as Vic Rests In Camp; White Plan Is Uncertain.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 18.—Congressman Charles West's offer of aggressive support to Democratic Senatorial Nominee Vic Donahey's campaign against Republican Sen. Simon D. Fess was received emotionally but agreeably today in the Donahey camp.

The former governor was vacationing in a secluded spot, recuperating from the rigors of the bitter primary contest in which he defeated West and Gov. George White, but his aides said Donahey undoubtedly would welcome the congressman's support "whether it be aggressive or merely lip service."

WHAT OF WHITE

After two weeks Donahey will emerge from his retreat to begin laying plans for the November election. Whether he will have the aggressive support of his other opponent, Governor White, was a matter for conjecture. White is vacationing at Camp Perry.

It was generally believed, however, that the nominee would at least have tacit support of White, even though the latter does not go as far as Congressman West and offer to stump the state in Donahey's behalf. White makes no claim to oratorical eminence.

West, in an interview with International News Service, made it plain that he still itches for a chance to take a crack at the arch-foe of the New Deal, Senator Fess who, encouraged by the tremendous vote given him in the primary, has stated he will base his campaign for re-election on his objection to the national recovery program.

AUTO, TRUCK HIT

No one was injured at 2 a. m. Saturday when the auto of H. O. Spangler, of Ashville, and a truck, the name of the driver unknown, sideswiped on Route 23 near the Pickaway Power plant, north of this city.

Ramsey Family In Court

Mix-up With Daughters

Accusing Mother.

Mother love is apparently an unknown thing to Misses Grace and Goldie Ramsey, of S. Scioto-st.

Friday, William Hickey, who operates a restaurant at Scioto and Ohio-sts, filed charges in Mayor W. B. Cady's court charging the Ramsey girls with stealing $12 worth of bed clothing and other goods from his home on August 10.

The girls pleaded not guilty and placed the blame for the theft on their mother, Mrs. Thomas Ramsey. Mayor Cady acquitted them "for insufficient evidence to convict."

Mr. Hickey appeared Saturday and filed an affidavit of larceny against the mother, Mrs. Ramsey. The mother was brought into court, crying and pleading innocence. She charged one of the daughters with being a "shop-lifter," and said both of them had stolen much during their lives.

She said she saw one of the daughters (Miss Goldie) leave the Hickey home with a bundle under her arm on the day the goods is supposed to have been taken. Standing outside the mayor's hearing room, the two daughters reiterated their charges that the mother had stolen the goods.

Mrs. Ramsey pleaded not guilty to the charge and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond. The two daughters watched their mother being taken to jail, apparently unaffected, while a son disclaimed any relationship to his two sisters, whom he said "would let their poor old mother go to jail for a deed they committed."

The incident drew a large crowd around the city building this morning.

CREATIVE WORSHIP

Dr. Philip S. Watters has said, "Worship involves conscious entry into the presence of the living God. In its ideal it presents a privilege unsurpassed in all human experience. It should lift us out of the monotony of turmoil of daily life and restore within us the sense of the Eternal. It should create clean hearts and renew right spirits within us. A FABLE

Said a wise old bee at the close of day, "This colony business doesn't pay. I put my honey in that old hive that others may eat and live and thrive and I do more work in a day than some of the other fellows do in three. I toil and worry and save and hoard and all I get is my room and board. It's me for a hive I can run myself and me for the sweets of my hard earned pelt." So the old bee flew to a meadow lone and started a business of his own. He gave no thought to the buzzing clan, but all intent on his selfish plan he lived the life of a hermit free—"Ah this is great," said the wise old bee. But the summer waned and the days grew drear and the lone bee wailed as he dropped a tear for the varmints gobbled his little store, his wax played out and his heart was sore so he winged his way to the old home band and took his meals at the Helping Hand. Alone our work is of little worth; together we are the lords of the earth.

Hang Together, Separately

The famous pun "all hang together or all hang separately" is attributed to Benjamin Franklin. When John Hancock affixed his signature to the Declaration of Independence, he is supposed to have remarked: "We must all hang together." To which Franklin replied: "Yes, we must all hang together or assuredly, we shall all hang separately."

They are: 1906 Presbyterian church in the U. S. Lesson for August 19

AMOS DENOUNCES SELF-INDULGENCE

(Temperance Lesson).

LESSON TEXT—Amos 6:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Amos 5:14.
PRIMARY TOPIC—When People Are Selfish.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Amos' Famous Sermon.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Dangers of Self-Indulgence.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Destruction Through Indulgence.

Our lesson is a temperance lesson and applies to other things than indulgence in intoxicating liquors. Our age is intoxicated with the love of pleasure, pursuit of gain, and various kinds of self-ambition.

I. Israel's Reckless Security (vv. 1-3).
They were blind to the perils that surrounded them. They trusted in the mountains of Samaria for their protection. They regarded their city as impregnable. They seemed to have regarded the utterances of Amos as the dreams of a fanatic. The same blunders are being made in America by those who are depending upon money and armaments instead of righteousness as the national defense.

II. Israel's Extreme Luxury (vv. 4-6).
Periods of prosperity are always characterized by luxury. The luxury of Israel expressed itself in:

1. Extravagant furniture (v. 4). They had beds of ivory—perhaps wood inlaid with ivory. 2. Indolence (v. 4). Many lazily stretched themselves on their couches—lived lives of indolence. Such is the way of many in America today.

3. Feasted on delicacies (v. 4). The implication here is that they had their dainties out of season. They bought what they desired, regardless of what it cost.

4. Adorned their feasts with music (v. 5). They sang idle songs—even invented musical instruments for this purpose. How like the time in which we live! By means of the radio, vulgar and even licentious sentiments are carried to our ears through the noble art of music.

5. They drank wine (v. 6). They were not satisfied with ordinary drinking vessels—they drank from bowls, indicating excessive drinking. They were so mastered by the intoxicating cup that their feasts which were adorned with the refinement of music ended in drunken debauchery.

III. Israel's Failure to Grieve for Joseph (v. 6).
Joseph here stands for Ephraim and Manasseh, his two sons. Ephraim became the principal tribe of the northern kingdom, so Joseph is used as a synonym for the nation. There is need of a modern Amos to thunder God's judgment upon those who are living in luxury, indifferent to the demands of the law of God.

IV. The Inevitable Consequence (vv. 7-11).
1. They shall go into captivity (v. 7). The northern kingdom was the first in sin, and therefore the first to go into captivity.

2. The calamitous circumstances of the siege of Samaria (vv. 8-11). The city with all its inhabitants was to be delivered up to its enemies.

a. Israel, the first in rank as well as first in numbers and power, went first into captivity.

b. Their revelry to cease (v. 7). There was to be a rude awakening from their drunken carousals.

c. God's judgment upon the city in strange contrast to his love for Jacob (v. 8). Men, women and children went into captivity at the hands of the Assyrians.

d. The surety of God's commandment (v. 11). The destruction was to be universal. The rich and the poor, the large and the small were included. God had sworn that his judgment shall fall. He is a God of justice. He is also the God of hosts, the controller of the whole universe, therefore none can escape. Though God sometimes waits long, he does not forget.

V. Israel's Ridiculous Conduct Exposed (vv. 12-14).
1. It was as absurd as plowing upon a rock with oxen. Their hard hearts were as unresponsive to the call of God as rocks are to the plow of the farmer (v. 12).

2. Their boasted power as a nation (v. 13). Outwardly the nation was characterized by great wealth and splendor. This all was to pass away with the stroke of divine judgment.

3. A nation raised up against them (v. 14). God raised up the Assyrian nation to punish Israel. The very fortified cities which they boasted of, Amos tells, would be taken away and used against them.

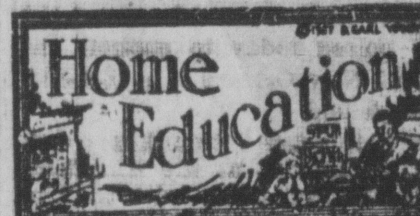

Be Natural
A Christian is "natural" only when he is filled with the Holy Spirit. To live the life that is Christ, some fear, would rob one of his individuality. It is quite otherwise: the Holy Spirit intensifies the personality at every point that is not sinful.

What is a good financial plan for a church budget?

There has been devised recently by the Rev. E. J. Bond, pastor of the First Methodist church, Elyria, O., an easy plan for financing a church by a method of penny-a-day shares. It provides a way for every one to participate and thus increase the number of givers and the number interested in the church.

Those who have been giving an amount greater than a penny a day will give at least the same amount put in terms of so many pennies per day to make the plan uniform in appeal.

The details must be well in hand by the pastor and church leaders and a month or so needs to be devoted to putting the plan in operation.

Solicitors need to be trained who will proceed very much after the Every Member Canvas Plan. Certificates will be printed which will be signed when the solicitors call. Different plans of remittances may be presented weekly, monthly or quarterly whichever best suits the one taking a share of shares. Specially improvised banks may be used and specially prepared bags offered.

SECOND HALF TITLE MONDAY EVE'S GOAL

Mecca restaurant and Circleville Oils will meet Monday evening to settle the championship of the second half of the softball league. Both teams have many followers who claim their favorites will win but it appears now as though the contest is a toss-up with the team getting the breaks winning.

Both clubs finished the second half with six victories and one defeat, the Mecca losing to the Oils and the Container Corporation handing the Oilmen their lone defeat. On the season's record the Mecca is leading everyone losing only one game the first half and one the second.

The game is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. but will start at 6:15 providing both teams are on the field and ready to go. The umpires are not yet certain.

TO USE LORING DAVIS

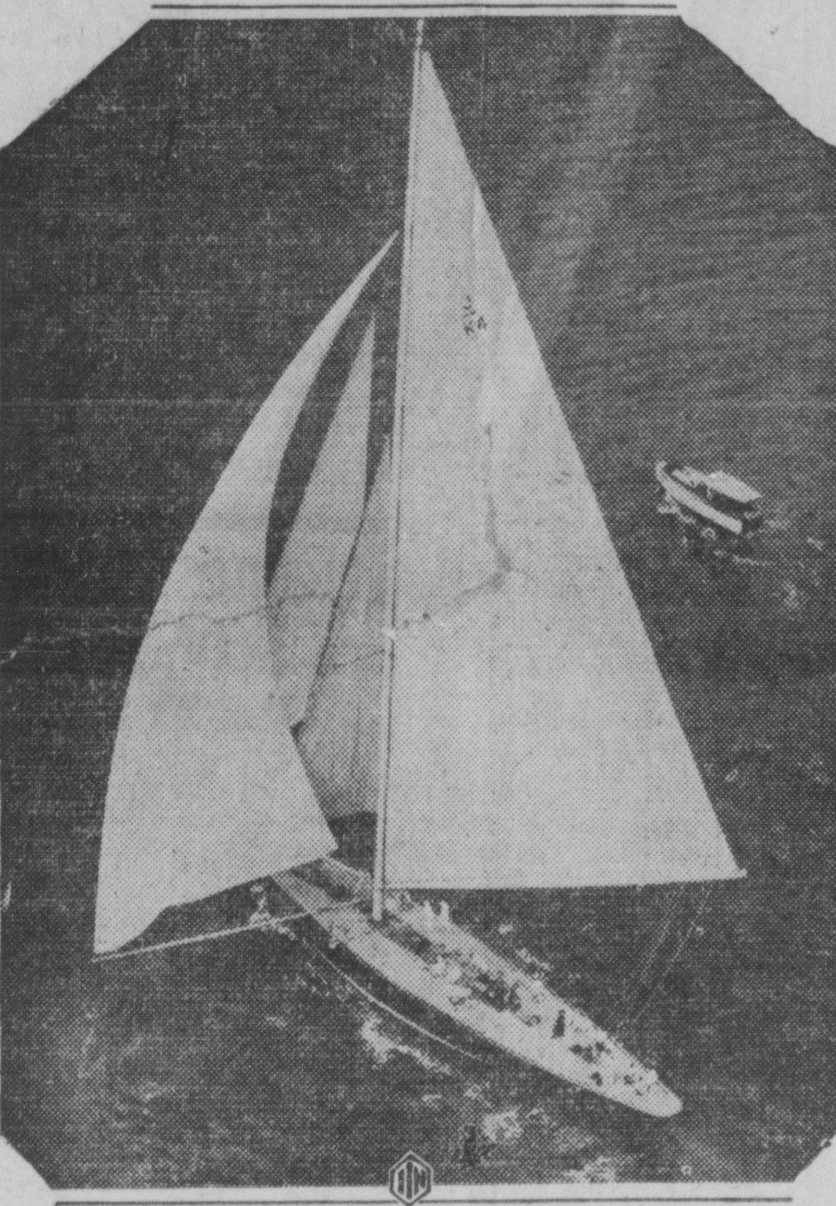

Manager Cum Robinson will call on either Loring Davis or Merle Davis to toss them for his team with the former favored. George Virebome, regular Mecca hurler, has been ill and it is understood has been instructed by his physician to remain off the diamond the remainder of the summer. The elder Davis pitched fine ball a couple of years ago and is still a smart hurler so may cause the Oils some trouble; it is believed he will receive the call.

Just how Robinson will handle the remainder of his lineup is uncertain. Kline will be on first base and Weller on third. It is probable that Merle Davis will be at shortstop and Hickey at second but Earl Radcliff who played second this week in Hickey's absence may get the call for that position. Wilson will be in left, Mettler in center and Bunk Radcliff in right providing Earl Radcliff plays second. Should Hickey go to second Radcliff would take center field replacing Mettler. Gordon will catch.

ROWE IS HERO; BLANKS YANKS TAKING SECOND

Detroit Comes Back After Gomez Calcimine; Lead Is Increased.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Schoolboy Rowe, the long, lean ace of the Detroit pitching staff, is a lad with ambitions. Listing them in the order of their importance to him they are: (1) to marry a little school-teacher down Arkansas way; (2) to win 20 straight games this year, to beat Rube Marquard's record; (3) to pitch the Tigers into a pennant and (4) to beat Carl Hubbell and the Giants in the world series.

No. 1 is a cinch. No. 2 needs a little luck as well as great pitching. No. 3 is reasonably certain and No. 4 is still in the lap of the Gods.

FOURTEENTH IN ROW

The lanky right-hander moved a step closer to all four ambitions yesterday when he chalked up his 14th victory and 14th in a row at the expense of the Yanks.

Only three days ago he had let the Yanks down with four hits and yesterday after Lefty Gomez had shut-out the Tigers, 5 to 0 to even the series, the Schoolboy put his team in front again by shutting out the Yanks, 2 to 0, with three hits.

Rowe had to be good for Jimmy Deshong yielded but five hits, three of which were bunched in the second inning for both Tigers runs. The Yanks bunched four of their six hits off Vic Sorrell in the first inning of the opener for three runs and made their other two on Lazzeri's homer in the sixth.

The Tigers came to town leading the pack by 4 1-2 games. They left with a 5 1-2 game lead, which should be more than enough to carry them until they get home.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

THAT DIZZY DEAN WITH all his hurrying ability is a "sissy" is now an established fact—Suspended indefinitely by the Cardinal management for skipping an exhibition game in Detroit, the Dizzy one ran protestingly to Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball. Landis has called a hearing in St. Louis Monday at which time both sides will present their claims.

Dean has this to say: "What business did they have suspending me? I was willing to pay my fine like a man for skipping that exhibition game in Detroit. But then they told me I was under definite suspension. They have no rights anywhere in baseball law to do that. And Judge Landis will tell them so."

Dean's little brother, Paul, has seen the error of his ways, has signed an agreement taking the blame for the incident and was credited with winning a ball game Friday when he blanked the Phillies for seven innings during which time his mates piled up a nice lead for him.

THE FEAT PERFORMED BY Schoolboy Rowe, Detroit ace, in blanking the slugging Yankees two games in a row must go down in history—That the McCarthy men are slipping is evidenced by the fact that a couple of years ago they went through a season without drawing a blank—Entire credit for the showing of Rowe and the entire Detroit club belongs to Manager Mickey Cochrane, and Connie Mack who openly predicted the pennant for the Tigers when he sold them Cochrane last winter.

Detroit, 2; New York, 0. Washington, 4; Cleveland, 3 (10 innings). Washington, 1; Cleveland, 0. Philadelphia, 9; Chicago, 8 (10 innings). Chicago, 3; Philadelphia, 2. Boston, 6; St. Louis, 0. St. Louis, 5; Boston, 2.

RECTOR'S CHARGES BRING PORT PROBE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 18.—Two separate probes into the operation of the city-owned airport, Port Columbus, were to be speeded up today after a state examiner's report to the bureau of inspection of public offices added new fuel to the movements.

Examiner George B. Rector, formerly of Williamsport, reported that the manager of the airport repaired his residence with funds set aside for the port restaurant. The finding totaled only $128 and Rector said that notwithstanding the fact that some small transactions at the airport "could not be condoned nor approved" there was "no concerted effort" to defraud the city.

Ruhlman, Bolender At Church Meeting

Rev. C. W. Ruhlman, pastor of the Evangelical church, and C. A. Bolender will leave Tuesday to attend the annual Ohio conference of Evangelical churches to be held from Wednesday until Sunday in the West Fourteenth-st church in Cleveland. Bishop Dunlap, of Cleveland, will preside at the meeting.

Delegates will be elected at this conference to attend the general conference to be held at Akron in October.

Ohio farmers now have about 42,000 more breeding ewes than they had last fall. But owing to a smaller number of lambs saved, the lamb crop is expected to be only one per cent larger.

One of Mickey's best moves was trading Johnny Stone for Goose Goslin, who has been clubbing that apple like wildfire.

The novelty of a polo team composed of cowboys will be offered at Harbor Hills polo field Sunday afternoon, when this popular resort presents its final Centennial event. The game will be between the Harbor Hills polo team and one composed of western riders from a rodeo.

Previous to the polo game there will be a rodeo with trick riding, broncho busting, steer bull dogging and sharp shooting, by men and women crack shots. Harry Freeman, the guiding genius of Harbor Hills is expecting the largest crowd of the Centennial season at this resort on Sunday.

Driver to Recover, Physician Declares

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 18.—As Donald L. Campbell, 32-year-old truck driver entered the 13th day of his involuntary talking marathon, Dr. C. S. Jackson, the attending physician, today announced that the "talking sickness" victim would recover. He cited two other cases at Columbus during the past score years where a 16-year-old girl talked for seven months and an adult man spoke incessantly for 11 days. Both completely recovered, he said.

Dr. Jackson believed that it would be only a matter of time until Campbell dropped off into a sleep from which he would awaken cured. Campbell is believed to be suffering from a fractured skull which has temporarily severed the coordination between his brain and tongue.

SABELLI AND POND ON RETURN FLIGHT

ROME, Aug. 18.—Caesar Sabelli and Captain George R. Pond, who flew here from New York, took off today on the first leg of their return flight to America. Under a full moon they set out in their big Bellanca plane, the "Leonardo Da Vinci," before dawn. The fliers said that from Genoa they would avoid the Alps by flying across France and then up the Rhone valley towards Paris. They hope to arrive in Dublin tonight at 9 o'clock.

BLANTON CAUGHT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 18.—Melvin Blanton, 23, of Camden, Ohio, who made a "spectacular" escape July 20 last in a rowboat from an army prison at Governor Island, N. Y., and two companions one of which was said by police to have aided him in the get-away, were held in the Marion-co jail here today.

The trio, all charged with several robberies in Indiana and Ohio, were arrested in downtown Indianapolis last Thursday for a traffic violation. They gave fictitious names and were not recognized until a police showup was held and their finger prints checked.

CULLOP HELPS "BIRD" CAUSE

Drives Ball Hard as Columbus Takes First Game of Road Journey.

Carl Purcell, who gave the Given Oils four hits in a shutout this week, to carry them to victory, Purcell's losses will be handled by Dick Robinson. Only one change will be found in the Oil lineup with Dorthy Courtwright going to right field in place of Leroy Moore who tore ligaments in his knee sliding to second base against the Givens Wednesday evening. Geib will be on first, Merriman second, Steele shortstop, Walker third, Barnes left, H. White center, and Courtwright right.

The winner of this game will take on the Container Corporation for the city championship, the series possibly starting Wednesday evening with the second game Friday and the remainder of games needed the next week. The championship will go to the first team winning three games.

Four umpires will be selected by Roy Norris, Container manager, and the manager of the winning team in the second half play-off, either Cum Robinson or George Crum.

Ohio Mayor Facing Embezzlement Count

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—Warrants charging embezzlement will be served today against former Mayor W. F. Hurst, of New Philadelphia, Clayton Renner, city solicitor, announced shortly before noon today.

Renner said that W. A. Benson, service director during Mayor Hurst's regime, also will be taken into custody.

The warrants against the former city officials, Benson said, were the result of the report of state examiners, released today, charging that the city of New Philadelphia has $4,214.30 coming from Mayor Hurst and $208.67 from its former service director.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 18.—The Columbus Red Birds, who started their road trip yesterday by handing the St. Paul double A club a 7 to 5 defeat, today were riding high, wide and handsome in the first saddle of the American Association pennant chase.

They were a full game ahead of Minneapolis in second place and three games ahead of Indianapolis in third place. The Birds were to meet the Apostles again today and try to pile up their ninth straight victory.

Nick Cullop, Red Bird slugger, was the hero of yesterday's encounter. With his mates trailing 5 to 4 in the seventh, he poled a home run to score a man ahead of him and put his team into the lead.

Both teams used plenty of pitchers to make room for pinch hitters. Heise, Sims and Klinger worked for the Red Birds and Thomas, Hutchinson, Erickson and Phelps saw mound service for the Saints. Sims was credited with the win and Hutchinson marked up with the loss.

Miss Regina Mack, N. Court-st, returned Friday from a week's visit with her aunt, Mrs. John Gill, Columbus.

Death On Wheels

TRAFFIC accident records for the year to date are anything but encouraging. They are decidedly disappointing to persons and agencies engaged in the hopeless cause of accident prevention. Pennsylvania's accident history for the first six months is typical. During the first quarter of the year the number of collisions between automobiles, between motor vehicles and street cars, between motor vehicles and trains, between motor vehicles and inanimate roadside objects and between motor vehicles and pedestrians mounted at a terrifying rate. Officials and private citizens were alarmed and with good cause. But the second quarter gave some reassurance. Motor accidents fell off 10 per cent and crashes between street cars and motor vehicles were 40 per cent less for the quarter. Winter and spring driving hazards account for the difference.

What the last four months of the year will bring forth none can say with certainty, but it is a foregone conclusion that the 1934 accident total will exceed that of 1933 by many thousands. And that means fatalities will be up.

Increasing traffic density, faster cars and growing recklessness combine to keep the hospitals and doctors busy. It would seem as if the average driver and pedestrian has assumed either a fatalistic or suicidal attitude.

The only way to keep from being annoyed by a howling dog is to own it.

Still Like It

SOUTH Carolina was one of the states that voted against repeal of the prohibition amendment. This however, did not cause any wide-spread belief that South Carolinians had lost their thirst, or for other reasons, had determined to confine their future drinking to milk and water.

News dispatches now tell of the recovery by Frank C. Rogers, ERA administrator, of a racket swapping relief-food orders for quorum. Bootleggers, special investigators discovered, have been sipping a harvest by catering to the thirst of persons on relief. Recipients of food orders, apparently more thirsty than hungry, would swap these for whiskey. The bootleggers then would get the food and sell this for cash.

The authorities now are engaged in a determined drive to stamp out the racket.

The discovery doesn't necessarily mean, of course, that the majority of South Carolinians are wet. It does indicate rather strongly, though, that South Carolina's bootleggers are making money, with a consequent loss of revenue to the state.

One wonders, if Admiral Byrd, too, wrote: Having a fine time, wish you were here.

"MA CINDERELLA" by Harold Bell Wright

SYNOPSIS

Diane Carroll—young artist and wealthy orphan, more interested in her work than society—visits the little village of Pine Knob in the Ozarks. Her sunny disposition melts the usual frigidity of the mountaineers towards strangers and they accept her as one of the "home folks"—all except Ann Haskel, whose word is law in Pine Knob. Diane, nevertheless, is fascinated by Ann about whom she has heard conflicting stories of generosity and hardness. The mountain woman seems to be nothing more than a good-for-nothing stepson, Jeff Todd, follows the artist everywhere. Ann has a son of her own, John Herbert Haskel, whom she sent away years ago, following the death of her first husband. One day, Ann comes upon Diane painting in Shady Creek Valley and brusquely asks: "What are you a-doin' here?" Diane apologizes for trespassing. Ann's demeanor changes immediately and she says: "You're welcome. I got sense to see you ain't a-hurtin' nobody." Seeming to relax and grow more friendly, Ann confides in Diane that, while the people of the woods are better than the society folks at the Lodge, still the backwoods would be no place to raise young folks who could be something if given a chance. Diane realizes that the mountain woman was revealing more of her life than she intended and the girl's heart went out to her. Then, abruptly changing the subject, Ann upbraids Diane for "doin' sich triflin' play-work as his heavy pitcher-paintin'." Next day, despite a heavy rain, Diane drives to the station to make reservations for her return to the city. The train pulls in and a handsome man steps off. Diane offers the stranded stranger a lift to Pine Knob. The creeks are flooded and they are trapped in the woods. The stranger is John Herbert, Ann's son. Not having seen his mother in years, he pictures her as she was then—tall and stately.

CHAPTER XIII

"Masterful sort—mother would be," mused the young man, with more than a touch of pride. "Quite capable of managing."

"Remarkably so," your mother, Mr. Haskel, is an amazing woman. I have never known anyone quite like her."

"Yes. You see, my father died when I was only six, and since then mother has had to do everything for herself. For me, too," he added, gratefully. "Judge Shannon was the old friend of mother's—the family, I mean—and mother put me in his care. The judge has been like a father to me. He is a bachelor. We are very fond of each other. I have always spent my winter and spring vacations with him, and a part of the summer vacation, too. He always arranged for me to spend most of the summer in a summer school, or in a boys' camp. But that is all finished now. I was graduated week before last—Ann Arbor. From now on I shall take care of mother."

"Yes, certainly, of course," said Diane, faintly.

He can scarcely wait until I see her," he went on, with boyish enthusiasm. "Just think, if this beastly rain hadn't caught us, I would be at home right now!"

"It's a shame," Diane returned, sympathetically—but she was not thinking of the rain.

He smiled fondly. I imagine mother is a bit old-fashioned. She never had much of an education. I mean, schools and colleges such as most girls of today have. But that's nothing. Some of the finest minds—the most intelligent people we have—never went to school much. It is just as Judge Shannon says, it is character that counts."

"Mother's letters are a bit quaint sometimes. She doesn't write to me often—only when she writes the judge. She never fails to remind me that I am the last of the Haskels."

"How interesting!" faltered Diane.

As if feeling that perhaps he was talking too much about himself, he said, politely: "You, I suppose, are spending your vacation here in the Ozarks? You told the fellow at the station that you were from the Lodge. Mother mentioned the Lodge once or twice in her letters."

He chuckled, and Diane, thinking of what Ann Haskel had probably written about the Lodge and the Lodge people, smiled with him.

She explained her presence in the backwoods, and when he learned that she was an artist he beamed with delighted approval.

"I felt sure you were something like that," he exclaimed. "I simply couldn't see you as a teacher or a business woman, or one of the do-nothing sort. Anybody would know that you were a painter or a musician, or a writer, perhaps."

He followed this with a multitude of questions, all with such eager and enthusiastic interest that before Diane realized it she had given him what amounted almost to a history of her life. But with characteristic pride, Bill Carroll's daughter, as usual, gave no hint of the Carroll fortune.

"And what are you going to do, now that you have finished college?" she asked at last.

He did not answer, and she saw by his face that he was deeply troubled.

"You'll go in for the law, I suppose," she added, thinking of Judge Shannon.

Diane's question stirred him to a desperate outburst: "That's just it—mother expects me to be a lawyer like the judge. And I've taken the law course. And Judge Shannon has it all arranged for me to start in with his old firm. But I can't. I tell you, Miss Carroll, I can't. I've got to do the thing I feel I must do. Don't you think that in choosing a profession one must, above all, be true to one's self? Could you, for instance, be anything but a painter? Could you? Do you feel that it would be right for you to deny your own nature—give up your art for, say, a business career, even if you knew you could make more money? I'm sure you couldn't."

There was something in his sudden vehemence which stirred Diane. She felt his strength. He was like—she thrilled oddly at the thought—he was like his mother. And she was glad. The last of the Haskels, whatever he did, would be no "dabbler."

"But what is it that you feel you must do?" she asked, quietly, watching his face.

"I want to write. I have already done several things—nothing much, of course—just beginner's stuff. But two of my poems and one short story were published in a magazine. I am sure I can make a go of it in time."

Gently Diane asked, "Does your mother know about your giving up the law?"

"That's the difficulty—she does not," came the troubled answer.

"Yes," the girl agreed, "I can see how that might be a difficulty."

John Herbert shot an uneasy, questioning glance at his companion. "I tried several times to write mother about it, but each time I found it was no use. I couldn't make it clear and convincing—I mean, I felt it wouldn't sound that way to her. So I decided to come and talk it over. I wanted so much to see mother, anyway. I think I ought to see her. Don't you?"

Before Diane could find an answer he went on: "You see, I don't really know mother—only what the judge has told me. While I was in school we couldn't afford the additional expense of a trip home. But now that I have been graduated I'm sure it is the right thing for me to have a little visit with mother before I start in on my life work. Don't you think so?"

"Does your mother know you are coming?"

He laughed. "No. I thought it would be great fun to surprise her. Just think of it—she hasn't seen me since I was a little kid! Why, I don't suppose she would even know me. But I'll know her."

"It will be a great surprise, all right," murmured Diane, desperately.

"I only hope mother won't be disappointed in me," he continued, earnestly. "She has worked so hard and sacrificed so much to give me an education. More than anything else in the world I want her to be satisfied with the result. You know what I mean. You can see how I would feel about it, can't you?"

Diane Carroll was not inexperienced in judging character. She wanted to say that she could not imagine any mother feeling other than very proud and happy in such a son. But, naturally, the young woman kept such thoughts to herself. "I am sure your mother will be glad to have you home," she said, slowly, and wondered, as she spoke, if there could be any happiness for this mother and son in such a tragic situation. Then, thinking of the sacrifice which the backwoods mother had made when she put her only child out of her life; thinking of the mountain woman's lonely years—of her toil and courage and fortitude; thinking of what Ann Haskel had made of herself in order that her boy might enter fully into a world which she herself had only glimpsed, Diane exclaimed, fervently: "I hope, oh, I hope she won't care too much about your change in plans."

"Do you think she will really care so much after I have talked it all over with her?" he asked, anxiously.

It was in Diane's heart to reassure him, but she felt that to build his hopes too high would only make the disillusionment which was sure to come all the more cruel.

"What does Judge Shannon think about it?" she asked.

"Oh, the judge was dead set against my coming home just now. He wanted me to write mother and put off my visit until I had done something really worth while. But I felt I must see her and make her understand. I owe her so much—everything. I can't have her thinking that I don't care about her wanting me to be a lawyer like Judge Shannon. I do care—but—I—can't help being what I am, can I?"

His distress was so genuine that the girl could not refrain from offering a word of comfort, and she reassured him with the professed belief that everything would be all right.

"I have wondered sometimes," he said, "if it was not a mistake to keep me away from mother so long. It might have been better for both of us if I had come home for my vacations, even though I would have had to take another year or two to finish school."

"Perhaps Judge Shannon has written your mother that you are coming?" offered Diane. "He might feel it would be best to prepare her, don't you think?"

"Oh, no, the judge wouldn't do that. If he had thought best to do that, he would have told me. He promised, though, to write her about my change of plans so that the letter would arrive soon after I did. I'm counting a lot on the judge's influence to make it easy for mother—for me, too. But, see here, I've talked enough about the Haskels. Isn't it about time your friends showed up?"

"My friends?"

"Yes. It's going to be night presently—must be close to sunset right now. Surely your friends will come or send some one to find you."

Diane shook her head. "I don't tell a soul where I was going, didn't even know myself when I started out. And they never expect me home at the Lodge until I arrive. Come to think of it, though, Pappy Giles, at the store, must have seen me come this way. He shouted to me as I started down the hill."

"Oh, it's sure to be all right, then," he returned, easily. "Some one will come for us."

Diane pointed to the flood of brown water which thundered down the little valley and across the road. "And how will anyone get to us? There are three more creeks as bad as that, or worse, between here and Pine Ridge."

"At least it seems to have quit raining again," said John Herbert, cheerfully, getting out of the car. "We have had much to be thankful for."

He stood beside the road, looking thoughtfully about at the leaden sky, the swollen stream and the rain-soaked forest which was growing more and more gloomy and mysterious with the coming of the dusk.

"It's going to be dark in a few minutes," he added. "It's going to be chilly too, and wet."

Fifty yards back from where the car stood the road crosses over the low end of a ridge which forms that side of the narrow valley in which they were trapped. A short distance upstream from the road this ridge is much higher and the side toward the creek breaks abruptly in a rocky bluff which they could faintly distinguish through the woods.

With sudden energy Diane left the car and started off through the dripping forest. "Come on," she said. "Let's see if we can't find a lodging-place that will be more comfortable than the roadster."

John Herbert followed.

A few minutes later they discovered a place where an overhanging ledge of rock had so protected the foot of the bluff from the straight downpour of rain that the wall of the cliff and a few feet of ground were comparatively dry.

"Here we are," cried Diane. "Now for some wood. We'll have no blankets, you know. Can you make a fire?"

"You bet I can. Learned in a boys' camp," returned her companion, who was already searching the crannies in the rock along the foot of the bluff, and under logs, for material dry enough to burn.

handbook, the boys settle his matrimonial ambitions in no uncertain fashion.

Dorothy Lee and Thelma Todd provide the feminine allure, together with many chorus beauties, in "Cockeyed Cavaliers." Much of the charm of the picture is due to its synchronized score, and its songs, which include "I Love to Dilly Dally" and "I Went Hunting," two popular numbers pretentiously interpreted by dance and chororal groups.

Mark Sandrich directed "Cockeyed Cavaliers," whose supporting cast features Noah Beery, Robert Greig and Henry Sedley.

Shoes May Be Cause of Foot Ills

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City

"MY FEET ache so. They bother me continuously during warm weather." This is the common complaint of persons suffering from disturbances of the feet. But the weather cannot be given the entire blame for this discomfort.

Many persons complain of foot ailments yet fail to take proper measures to correct them. In most instances the trouble can be traced to some minor disturbance of the foot, such as a callous, corn or ingrown toe nail. It may come from "flat foot."

Too little attention is given to the selection of proper footwear. As I have repeatedly stated, shoes should allow sufficient room for the toes, yet fit snugly over the instep. Always avoid shoes that are too small. The heel of the shoe should be given consideration. It should be broad, low and flat. The shoe industry has made great advances and the purchaser of a shoe today is pretty well assured of a sensible and comfortable one.

If you have any deformity of the foot it is imperative that you receive proper and scientific advice. Do not neglect minor disturbances of the foot and, above all, do not resort to home remedies. It is true that temporary relief may be obtained but in most instances permanent cure is denied.

Walking Recommended
Such as conditions as callouses and bunions when neglected may lead to serious and permanent disability. They sometimes result in painful and unsightly deformities. Often a simple operation will completely correct and cure the underlying disorder.

Persons are frequently advised by their physicians to indulge in more exercise. Walking is often recommended. I know of no exercise that is more beneficial and within the reach of everyone. But it is difficult to follow the doctor's advice if foot discomforts are present and improper footwear worn. Walking cannot be expected to be beneficial or enjoyable under such conditions.

During the summer months a good way to strengthen the muscles of the feet and allow deformities to heal is to walk about barefooted whenever possible. When opportunity for this luxury is offered I suggest that you first make sure the ground or beach is clean and free from the germs of hookworm or ringworm. When these agents of disease are present it is dangerous to walk around barefooted.

For sufferers from flat-foot, especially children, walking about on a soft, sandy beach without shoes is of great benefit. This exercise strengthens the arch of the foot and encourages normal expansion of the foot.

Of course, I am not advising that the child go barefooted all the time. My suggestions relate to the value of such exercises in promoting foot health.

Answers to Health Queries

D. M. Q.—What can be done for aches? I am very nervous and irritable and this naturally affects my digestion.

A.—Try to find the underlying cause of the trouble. Watch your diet and elimination. Get more rest. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Admirers Of Dillinger Threaten Department Of Justice With Revenge

WASHINGTON — Since the slaying of John Dillinger the Department of Justice has received scores of anonymous letters threatening dire revenge for his killing. Most of the missives are signed "A Pal," "Friend of John," etc., but a few give names. The letters cannot be traced. How sweeping was the Government's search for the outlaw is indicated by the fact that in addition to the 75 agents it had on its trail, over a hundred underworld informers were used.

The president gained twelve pounds during his sea trip. In the morning he usually takes exercises to reduce.

Orestes Ferrara, Cuban Secretary of State under Machado, thinks Cuba is ready to bring his ex-chief back again. Ferrara was about to sail for Italy this summer, when he got word that a revolution was brewing in Havana. He decided to await developments in New York.

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo. writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half tea-spoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drugstore—the best for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

CAGNEY DENIES HELPING 'REDS'

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 18. —Defiant communistic correspondence, disclosed in the seizure by the Sacramento police "Red" squad of private letters of Caroline Decker, so-called firebrand of California farm labor agitation under arrest on charge of criminal syndicalism, was guarded by authorities today as evidence for presentation at a pending trial of 17 Communists charged with criminal syndicalism, a felony offense.

Letters found in the personal effects of Miss Decker, who served as secretary of the Radical Cannery and Industrial Workers union, involved the names of Ella Winter of Carmel, wife of Lincoln Steffens, the author of "The American Revolution," James Cagney, Hollywood actor, and a mysterious woman named "Mary" whose identity was being sought by officers.

Reports from Hollywood said that while Cagney admitted he was a close friend and admirer of Steffens, he most emphatically denied sharing his friend's views and ever contributing or offering to contribute money to the Communist cause.

Four of the letters seized by McAllister and made public through Chief of Police William Hallinan were replete with references to the well-known film actor. Here is a series of excerpts from the letters, some of which were addressed to "Mary." Others to Ella Winter and still others of which were addressed to Miss Decker purportedly from Ella Winter.

"... Cagney was fine this time and is going to bring up other stars to talk to Steff about Communism."

"... Cagney said several stars are asking about Communism now. He wrote a piece for N. M. on the screen actors' view, which is, as you know employers rebellion against the producers."

"... Ah well, perhaps it's worth while. If one needs Jimmy Cagney, who offers to go one's cash bail regardless of the amount. Nice, huh? And he'd better get a nice lump sum ready!"

government, the Long-controlled senate last night, before adjournment, amended the city charter bill to prohibit the swearing of special police without the consent of the governor.

This struck at the heart of New Orleans' defense against Long's power. Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley summoned into service and armed 1,300 special policemen two weeks ago when the administration seized control of the city registration office by force of arms through the national guard.

A "Seabury" investigation of Orleans municipal and parish offices held by members of the "old regular" Democratic organization, powerful city ring in revolt against Long, met final approval in the senate shortly before midnight.

Long's measures, more than a score, aimed principally at giving him a stranglehold on the south's largest city, passed through the legislature with breathtaking swiftness.

Long commanded his ally, Governor Oscar K. "O. K. Huey" Allen to summon the legislature into session, laid down the law to his followers in a series of caucuses, and saw the body grind steady approval to each measure to clean up the business and adjourn in the five-day minimum set by law.

The final hectic session saw newspapermen barred from the house, two arrested in the senate and a third slugged.

By Pat J. Kirwin

THAT Wade H. Cook, E. Main-st., has a carbon copy of an order he received on September 18, 1901, while serving as a telegraph operator in the Pennsylvania railroad offices here, advising all trains to stop and all work to cease for a period of 10 minutes in memory of assassinated President McKinley, whose funeral services were held the next day.

The message was sent by W. W. Varney, chief dispatcher of the Zanesville division of the Pennsylvania, and was received here at 1:16 p. m., Sept. 18. Addressed to all agents and operators, it read:

"The funeral services of the late President McKinley will commence at Canton, O., at 1:30 p. m. (central time) tomorrow; commencing at 1:30 p. m. and continuing for 10 minutes every train on this line will stop; all agents and operators will discontinue work commencing at 1:30 p. m. for a period of 10 minutes.

"Signed, W. W. Varney."

While funeral services were being held at Canton on Sept. 19, 1901, for the dead President who was shot at the Buffalo exposition on Sept. 6, a divine memorial service was held in the Memorial Hall here. Ministers of every faith in the town participated in the service, presided over by Judge A. R. Van Cleaf.

A copy of the program outlining parts of the service is also in the possession of Mr. Cook. The program follows:

That on March 6, 1901, city council granted the first franchise for the construction of an electric traction line through Circleville, and on July 25, 1904, the first trip was made from Circleville to Reese Station, north of the city. The traction cars did not run from Circleville to Columbus until August 5 of that year.

That a number of years ago, Yellowbud was the most noted cheese-making center in this part of the country. McSchovar, Ford and Rose operated a cheese factory just outside of Yellowbud and in good times turned out 1,000 pounds of the dairy product each week. Yellowbud cheese was fairly well known throughout the country.

Louisiana State Senate Extends Him Powers of Dictator

CONTROLS POLICE

"Seabury" Probe of Huge City Planned

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 18.—Senator Huey P. Long's mailed fist was poised today to encircle the city of New Orleans in a vice-like stranglehold.

In a five-day extraordinary session, summoned at the Kingfish's command apparently with the single objective of giving him undisputed control of the rebellious seaport city, the Louisiana legislature endowed the long-dominated state administration with powers unknown in the south since the carpetbag era.

Long emerged today as Louisiana's uncrowned king—a dictator in fact, however unofficial.

CONTROLS POLICE

Meekly, in sessions marked by the ribaldry of a burlesque show, the legislature gave the administration virtually unlimited police powers through a state constabulary and broad use of the state militia, with extraordinary powers of clemency, provided for a sweeping investigation of Long's enemies in the New Orleans municipal government, increased control of the election machinery, and, in measure after measure, struck telling the authority of Louisiana's self-proclaimed dictator.

STRATOSPHERE FLIGHT STARTS

European Scientists in Air; No News Yet Concerning Their Success.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A Reuters dispatch from Brussels this afternoon reported that the stratosphere balloon of Prof. Max Cosyns had descended within a mile of Saarbrücken, in the Saar valley.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 18.—After not having been reported for more than two hours, Professor Max Cosyns and his aide, Dr. Nereus Van Der Elst, soaring through the stratosphere to study the cosmic rays, were sighted over Bueinegen, in the Saar, at 11:15 a. m. today.

Bueinegen is about a mile and a half from Saarbrücken.

At noon a radio message was received from Cosyns, but it could not be understood.

It was not known at this time how high the bag had flown, or with what success the scientists had met in studying the cosmic rays.

HOOR-HAVENNE, Belgium, Aug. 18.—A tiny speck in a clear blue sky, drifting slowly eastward across Europe at an altitude of more than three miles, today represented man's latest adventure in attempting to soar to new heights through the atmosphere enveloping this worshipping balloon of the youthful Professor Max Cosyns who took off from a field near this village at 6:17 a. m. (1:17 a. m. New York time).

Cosyns had with him Dr. Van Der Elst, a Dutch scientist, and the latest instruments for measuring the performance and determining the nature of the mysterious cosmic rays, which are best studied in the higher altitudes.

EVANGELIST FREE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 18.—The Rev. R. H. Askew, Goldsboro, N. C., evangelist, who has been missing since last Tuesday, walked into the Nashville police station this morning after he said, being released by four abductors ten miles from here.

Askew went into immediate conference with police. Details of the purported kidnapping were not insisted said he hit-blinked into Nashville after being released.

NUMBER OF CATTLE ON RANGE GAINING

DELAWARE, Aug. 18.—The number of cattle at the state range for drought animals here increased today.

THRILLS OFFERED IN AIR EVENTS, SUNDAY

Preview Shows Many Features With Mackey, Others Appearing

WATCH CHUTE LEAP

Drop Of Mile Through Thin Air Planned

A last minute preview of plans for the annual "Air Day" to be held Sunday at the Stevenson field, three miles northwest of the city, indicates that an air show that is seldom seen outside of the National Air Races at Cleveland, will be presented.

Several of the outstanding events listed on the program will be the thrilling inverted acrobatic flying of Lieut. Joe C. Mackey, noted stunt and inverted flight ace and skywriter.

To Lieut. Mackey goes the credit of being the only pilot to ever fly "up side down backwards" and is one of the very few stunt fliers who takes a ship aloft purely for inverted stunt flying.

ONE SLIP FATAL

However, it's all a part of his thrilling day's job but one where the slightest mistake may mean that his name may be obliterated from the headlines.

Then too, there is the one mile delayed parachute jump by "Cannon Ball" Taylor Mast, of Mansfield, one of the premier delayed-parachute jumpers in the country.

Dare Devil Mast will "bail-out" of an airplane flying 10,000 feet high and will release his chute until he has fallen more than one mile. He will carry a 50-pound sack of flour strapped to his shoulders and torn at the top to form a trail of his fall.

There is not a dull minute in the entire afternoon's program which includes ribbon cutting, balloon bursting and various other maneuvers. It starts at 2 o'clock.

AIRLINER THERE

One modern tri-motored Stinson luxury airliner will be on the field to take up the air-minded for a 15-mile air cruise for a nominal rate.

Included in the air show's personnel is a group of the most outstanding aeronautical personalities ever to congregate in this section of the state they are: Bill Sweet, prominent air race announcer and master of ceremonies, over the public address system to be stationed at the airport. He is said to be a show all himself with his genial and incessant chatter about the flyers while they are in the air; W. Myron Hightower, a veteran transport pilot flying the mammoth tri-motored transport, play, "Miss Circleville"; Captain Fred L. Smith, state director of aeronautics; Karl F. Steele, Jack (Loop King) Barrette, "Blimp" Rudeguy, Lieut. Mackey, stunt ace John Corrodi, president of the Corrodi Flying Service at Port Columbus, and many others.

According to advance information the meet will be geared to high speed, fast action thrills and excitement.

Eight new type fast flying, fast diving airplanes are expected to take part in this aviation classic.

The local chapter of the National Aeronautical Association is sponsoring the "Air Day."

BOY, 2, IS DEAD

John Henry Sowers, aged 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sowers, 214 W. High-st., died Friday evening of acute nutritional disturbance after a two weeks' illness.

The boy, whose mother was Katherine Wolf before her marriage, was born in Jackson-twp May 21, 1932.

Besides the parents, three brothers, Wilbur, Russell and David, survive.

The funeral will be Monday at 3 p. m. at the home with Rev. G. L. Troutman officiating. The Albaugh Co. is in charge of burial in Forest cemetery.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Oliver, Pearl-st., announce the birth of a daughter, Friday.

Germans to Vote Allegiance to Hitler

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Germany takes the oath to Hitler tomorrow. Exactly as the army lined up seven hours after the death of Hindenburg and swore fealty to Hitler because Reichswelt Minister Von Blomberg ordered them to do so, tomorrow the German people will line up in "plebiscite" record their 40,000,000 odd "yes" votes for their commander-in-chief, president, chancellor, leader and Caesar, Adolf Hitler.

They say that during the swearing in of the Reichswehr a recalcitrant colonel, major or whatnot dropped his hand and kept his mouth shut when the oath was repeated. That, if true at all, meant nothing except a bit of bravado on the part of an adventurously conspicuous man. So tomorrow it will mean nothing if a few million Germans drop their hands, and refuse to take the oath—stay at home or even go so far as to vote "no."

IN SECRET BALLOT

It will be a free vote. It will be a secret vote. There is no control of the ballot. Nobody will know how anybody else voted. Certainly not in the larger communities.

But there are a number of reasons why a vast majority of Germans will vote "yes" on the question of the ballot.

"Dost thou, German man, or thou, German woman, agree" to Hitler becoming Reichspresident.

NAME 2 BANKS IN CREDIT PLAN

Third and Second National Banks Listed By Washington Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18.—Two Circleville, Ohio, banks today appeared on the list of "Home Honor Banks" announced by the Federal Housing Commission as among the financial institutions prepared to accept credit to property owners under the administration's modernization credit plan.

This is the latest step in the New Deal and will enable Circleville residents to modernize their homes and thus step up employment in this Ohio community.

The two banks, which appear on the list today among the first banks in the country to announce complete co-operation with Uncle Sam in his battle for recovery, are the Third National Bank and the Second National Bank.

James A. Moffett, housing administrator, announced that credit insurance already has been arranged with banks having resources of over 10 billions serving nearly 100 million people and that the Circleville banks are now an integral part of the gigantic recovery movement.

It was stated here today that in all probability all Circleville banks would be listed under the plan.

AGITATORS NAMED IN CHICAGO 'WAR'

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Communist agitators were blamed today for early morning mob attacks on two buses and attempts to foment a city-wide transportation walkout in sympathy with striking employees of the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Ten police squads responded to a riot call when a mob of 1,000 men and women laid siege to two buses. The West Jefferson-bld early today. Rocks and ripe vegetables showered the vehicles, both of which carried passengers. An unsuccessful attempt was made to overturn one bus.

Several bystanders and rioters were injured, none seriously. Arthur Zoller, 32, a bus driver, was struck on the head with a brick. Broken glass, vegetables, stones and bricks littered the boulevard for three blocks in the zone of disorder.

One driver reported being kidnapped by a band of men. He said he was released after being threatened.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buskirk, of near Derby, who are in Berger hospital suffering from injuries received in an auto accident, Wednesday, are reported slightly improved.

Roy Carey, state highway patrolman, who is undergoing treatment at Berger hospital for injuries suffered in an accident the first of the week, is improving.

LOCAL THROG AIDS KINGSTON IN CENTENNIAL

Mayor Leads Huge Parade Through Streets Amid Loud Applause

EVENT SUCCESSFUL

Green, Red Fire, Music Add to Interest.

Scores of automobiles carrying nearly 1,000 Circleville citizens went to the Kingston centennial celebration in the Ross-co village Friday evening and put on the greatest demonstration that Kingston has seen in some time.

That the Kingstonians were highly appreciative of Circleville's visit was evidenced by the loud applause they gave the long parade of "roundtowners" that marched through the streets.

A long line of approximately 75 autos lined up at the Circleville high school building about 7:30 last evening and preceded by an official escort, Deputy Sheriff Bryan J. Custer and party, the caravan started on its way down the Kingston-pk.

LED BY MAYOR CADY

At Wright's filling station, just on the edge of Kingston, occupants left their autos and were joined by a large number of other Circleville citizens who had already arrived. The parade line was then formed, the American Legion drum corps leading, followed by Mayor W. B. Cady. Every one in the parade was handed a large torch of either a green or red color, and the parade started.

The Circleville high school band led by its pretty little drum major, Miss Jane Littleton, was in the line of march as usual sending out its shrilling, staccato numbers.

The parade was a novel sight as it marched amid a blaze of green and red fire through the streets of the little village which was just passing its 100-year mark. Hundreds of persons lined the streets, including several hundred Pickaway-countians, to watch the parade.

After marching through the business section and down to the carnival section of the village, the parade disbanded and every one started to see the sights.

DEVOLT, ADELPHI SLAYER, CAUGHT

CHILLICOTHE, Aug. 18.—Layton Devolt, 31, who escaped June 17 from the London prison farm after serving 14 years of a life term for the hatchet murder of his father, Noah Devolt, Adelphi, was captured by Chicago detectives early Friday according to word received here.

When taken into custody Devolt gave the name of Curtis Anderson but his identity was later proved through Bertillon records.

When his true identity became known, Devolt admitted to detectives that he was an escaped prisoner from the London farm and told them about the offense for which he was committed.

Devolt and a man named John Anderson, 45, who had been sent up from Scioto-co on a statutory charge, escaped together.

With Devolt's capture, John P. Phillips, Jr., local attorney, who was the prosecutor at the trial, breathed a sigh of relief. After Devolt, a youth of seventeen at the time of his conviction, had been sentenced to a life term, he swore to Phillips that "I'll get you some day for this." Phillips recalled the threat when the boy escaped.

WHAT OF WHITE

After two weeks Donahy will emerge from his retreat to begin laying plans for the November election. Whether he will have the aggressive support of his other opponent, Governor White, was a matter for conjecture. White is vacationing at Camp Perry.

It was generally believed, however, that the nominee would at least have tacit support of White, even though the latter does not go as far as Congressman West and offer to stump the state in Donahy's behalf. White makes no claim to oratorical eminence.

West, in an interview with International News Service, made it plain that he still itches for a chance to take a crack at the arch-foe of the New Deal, Senator Arch who, encouraged by the tremendous vote given him in the primary, has stated he will base his campaign for re-election on his objection to the national recovery program.

AUTO, TRUCK HIT

No one was injured at 2 a. m. Saturday when the auto of H. O. Spangler, of Ashville, and a truck, the name of the driver unknown, collided on Route 23 near the Pickaway Power plant, north of this city.

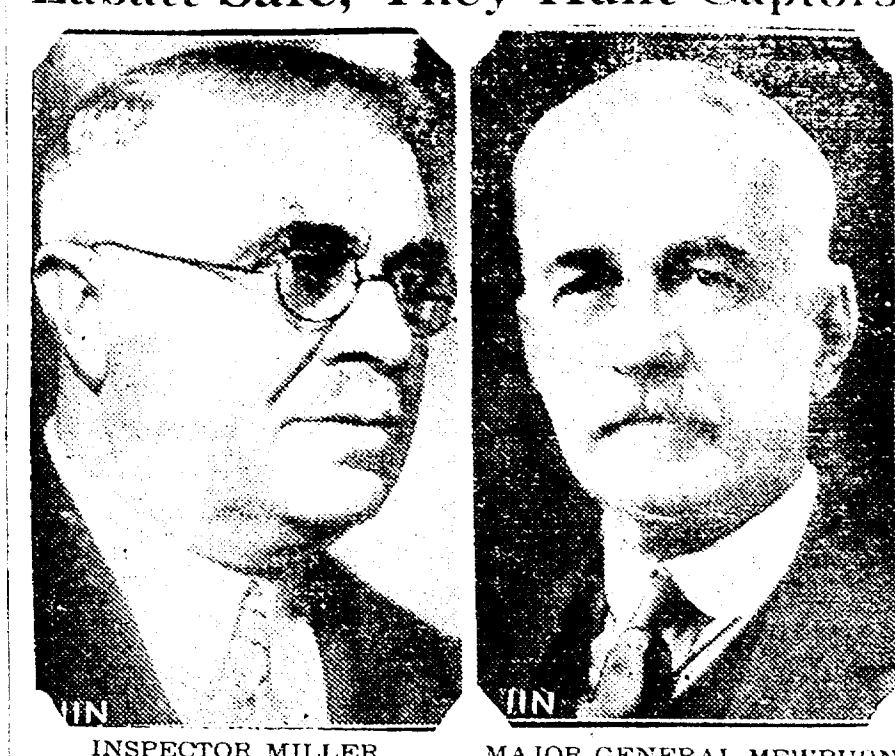

Sheriff Charles Radcliff was called to the scene but when he arrived the truck and auto were gone and no one could be found to give details of the mishap.

WEST TO AID VIC DONAHEY

Pledges Support as Vic Rests In Camp; White Plan Is Uncertain.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 18.—Congressman Charles West's offer of aggressive support to Democratic Senatorial Nominee Vic Donahy's campaign against Republican Sen. Simeon D. Fess was received emotionally but agreeably today in the Donahy camp.

The former governor was vacationing in a secluded spot, recuperating from the rigors of the bitter primary contest in which he defeated West and Gov. George White, but his aides said Donahy undoubtedly would welcome the congressman's support "whether it be aggressive or merely lip service."

WHAT OF WHITE

After two weeks Donahy will emerge from his retreat to begin laying plans for the November election. Whether he will have the aggressive support of his other opponent, Governor White, was a matter for conjecture. White is vacationing at Camp Perry.

It was generally believed, however, that the nominee would at least have tacit support of White, even though the latter does not go as far as Congressman West and offer to stump the state in Donahy's behalf. White makes no claim to oratorical eminence.

West, in an interview with International News Service, made it plain that he still itches for a chance to take a crack at the arch-foe of the New Deal, Senator Arch who, encouraged by the tremendous vote given him in the primary, has stated he will base his campaign for re-election on his objection to the national recovery program.

AUTO, TRUCK HIT

No one was injured at 2 a. m. Saturday when the auto of H. O. Spangler, of Ashville, and a truck, the name of the driver unknown, collided on Route 23 near the Pickaway Power plant, north of this city.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff was called to the scene but when he arrived the truck and auto were gone and no one could be found to give details of the mishap.

Checks to Be Turned Over to Cooperators Monday and Tuesday at Meetings Announced Today; Some Checks Delayed.

More than $200,000 will be put into circulation in Pickaway-co Monday and Tuesday when checks sent here by the government under the corn and hog contract program will be distributed. The exact amount received Saturday morning at the Pickaway-co Farm Bureau office was $211,934.06.

A few of the checks of the 1,297 contract signers were withheld pending further information to be furnished by the allotment committee. These checks are expected in a few days.

AVERAGE ABOUT $165

The checks average about $165 each.

The amount of money now mailed into Ohio under the corn-hog program amounts to $3,700,279, government figures show. A report today showed that more than $31,200,000 had been paid on the first installment of $130,000,000. The last week has marked a resumption of payments in Iowa, where a total has swelled to $7,591,734.

Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, South Dakota, and Nebraska have passed the million mark in addition to Ohio.

Fairfield-co during the past week received checks amounting to $139,680.

$12 Worth of Bed Clothing Causes Arrest

Ramsey Family in Court Mix-up With Daughters Accusing Mother.

Mother love is apparently an unknown thing. Misses Grace and Goldie Ramsey, of S. Scioto-st.

Friday, William Hickey, who operates a restaurant at Scioto and Ohio-sts., filed charges in Mayon W. B. Cady's court charging the Ramsey girls with stealing $12 worth of bed clothing and other goods from his home on August 10.

The girls pleaded not guilty and placed the blame for the theft on their mother, Mrs. Thomas Ramsey. Mayor Cady acquitted them "for insufficient evidence to convict."

Mrs. Hickey appeared Saturday and filed an affidavit of larceny against the mother, Mrs. Ramsey. The mother was brought into court, crying and pleading innocence. She charged one of the daughters with being a "shop-lifter" and said both of the girls had stolen much during their travels.

Hang Together, Separately. The famous pun "all hang together or all hang separately" is attributed to Benjamin Franklin. When John Hancock affixed his signature to the Declaration of Independence, he is supposed to have remarked: "We must all hang together." To which Franklin replied: "Yes, we must all hang together or assuredly, we shall all hang separately."

"QUALITY HARDWARE"

A FABLE

Said a wise old bee at the close of day, "This colony business doesn't pay. I put my money in that old hive that others may eat and live and thrive and I do more work in a day than some of the other fellows do in three. I toil and worry and save and hoard and all I get is my room and board. It's me for a hive I can run myself and me for the sweets of my hard earned pelf." So the old bee flew to a meadow lone and started a business of his own. He gave no thought to the buzzing clan, but all intent on his selfish plan, he lived the life of a hermit free—"Ah this is great," said the wise old bee. But the summer waned and the days grew drear and the lone bee wailed as he dropped a tear for the varmints gobbled his little store, his wax played out and his heart was sore, so he winged his way to the old home band and took his meals at the Helping Hand. Alone our work is of little worth; together we are the lords of the earth.

Lesson for August 19

AMOS DENOUNCES SELF-INDULGENCE

(Temperance Lesson).

LESSON TEXT—Amos 6:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Amos 5:14.

PRIMARY TOPIC—When People Are Selfish.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Amos' Famous Sermon.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Dangers of Self-Indulgence.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Destruction Through Indulgence.

Our lesson is a temperance lesson and applies to other things than indulgence in intoxicating liquors. Our age is intoxicated with the love of pleasure, pursuit of gain, and various kinds of self-indulgence.

I. Israel's Reckless Security (vv. 1-3).

They were blind to the perils that surrounded them. They trusted in the mountains of Samaria for their protection. They regarded their city as impregnable. They seemed to have regarded the utterances of Amos as the dreams of a fanatic. The same blunders are being made in America by those who are depending upon money and armaments instead of righteousness as the national defense.

II. Israel's Extreme Luxury (vv. 4-6).

Periods of prosperity are always characterized by luxury. The luxury of Israel expressed itself in:

1. Extravagant furniture (v. 4). They had beds of ivory perhaps of wood inlaid with ivory.

2. Indulgence (v. 4). Many lazily stretched themselves on their couches—lived lives of indolence. Such is the way of many in America today.

3. Feasted on delicacies (v. 4). The implication here is that they had their dainties out of season. They bought what they desired, regardless of what it cost.

4. Adorned their feasts with music (v. 5). They sang idle songs—even invented musical instruments for this purpose. How like the time in which we live! By means of the radio, vulgar and even licentious sentiments are carried to our ears through the noble art of music.

5. They drank wine (v. 6). They were not satisfied with ordinary drinking vessels—they drank from bowls, indicating excessive drinking. They were so mastered by the intoxicating cup that their feasts which were adorned with the refinement of music ended in drunken debauchery.

III. Israel's Failure to Grieve for Joseph (v. 6).

Joseph here stands for Ephraim and Manasseh, his two sons. Ephraim became the principal tribe of the northern kingdom, so Joseph is used as a synonym for the nation. There is need of a modern Amos to thunder God's judgment upon those who are living in luxury, indifferent to the demands of the law of God.

IV. The Inevitable Consequence (vv. 7-11).

1. They shall go into captivity (v. 7). The northern kingdom was the first in sin, and therefore the first to go into captivity.

2. The calamitous circumstances of the siege of Samaria (vv. 8-11). The city with all its inhabitants was to be delivered up to its enemies.

a. Israel, the first in rank as well as first in numbers and power, went first into captivity.

b. Their revelry to cease (v. 7). There was to be a rude awakening from their drunken carousals.

c. God's judgment upon the city in strange contrast to his love for Jacob (v. 8). Men, women and children went into captivity at the hands of the Assyrians.

d. The surety of God's commandment (v. 11). The destruction was to be universal. The rich and the poor, the large and the small were included. God had sworn that his judgment shall fall. He is a God of justice. He is also the God of hosts, the controller of the whole universe, therefore none can escape. Though God sometimes waits long, he does not forget.

V. Israel's Ridiculous Conduct Exposed (vv. 12-14).

1. It was as absurd as plowing upon a rock with oxen. Their hard hearts were as unresponsive to the call of God as rocks are to the plow of the farmer (v. 12).

2. Their boasted power as a nation (v. 13). Outwardly the nation was characterized by great wealth and splendor. This all was to pass away with the stroke of divine judgment.

3. A nation raised up against them (v. 14). God raised up the Assyrian nation to punish Israel. The very fortified cities which they boasted of, Amos tells, would be taken away and used against them.

Be Natural

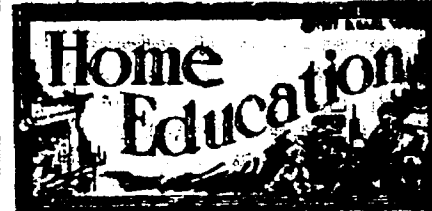

A Christian is "natural" only when he is filled with the Holy Spirit. To live the life that is Christ, some fear, would rob one of his individuality. It is quite otherwise: the Holy Spirit intensifies the personality at every point that is not sinful.

What is a good financial plan for a church budget?

There has been devised recently by the Rev. E. J. Bond, pastor of the First Methodist church, Elyria, O., an easy plan for financing a church by a method of penny-a-day shares. It provides a way for every one to participate and thus increase the number of givers and the number interested in the church.

Those who have been giving an amount greater than a penny a day will give at least the same amount put in terms of so many pennies per day to make the plan uniform in appeal.

The details must be well in hand by the pastor and church leaders and a month or so needs to be devoted to putting the plan in operation.

Solicitors need to be trained who will proceed very much after the Every Member Canvas Plan. Certificates will be printed which will be signed when the solicitors call. Different plans of remittances may be presented weekly, monthly or quarterly whichever best suits the one taking a share of shares. Specially improvised banks may be used and specially prepared bags offered.

There may be some substitute for good nature but so far it has not been discovered.

SECOND HALF TITLE MONDAY EVE'S GOAL

Mecca restaurant and Circleville Oils will meet Monday evening to settle the championship of the second half of the softball league. Both teams have many followers who claim their favorites will win but it appears now as though the contest is a toss-up with the team getting the breaks winning.

Both clubs finished the second half with six victories and one defeat, the Mecca losing to the Oils and the Container Corporation handing the Oils their lone defeat. On the season's record the Mecca is leading everyone losing only one game the first half and one the second.

The game is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. but will start at 6:15 providing both teams are on the field and ready to go. The umpires are not yet certain.

TO USE LORING DAVIS

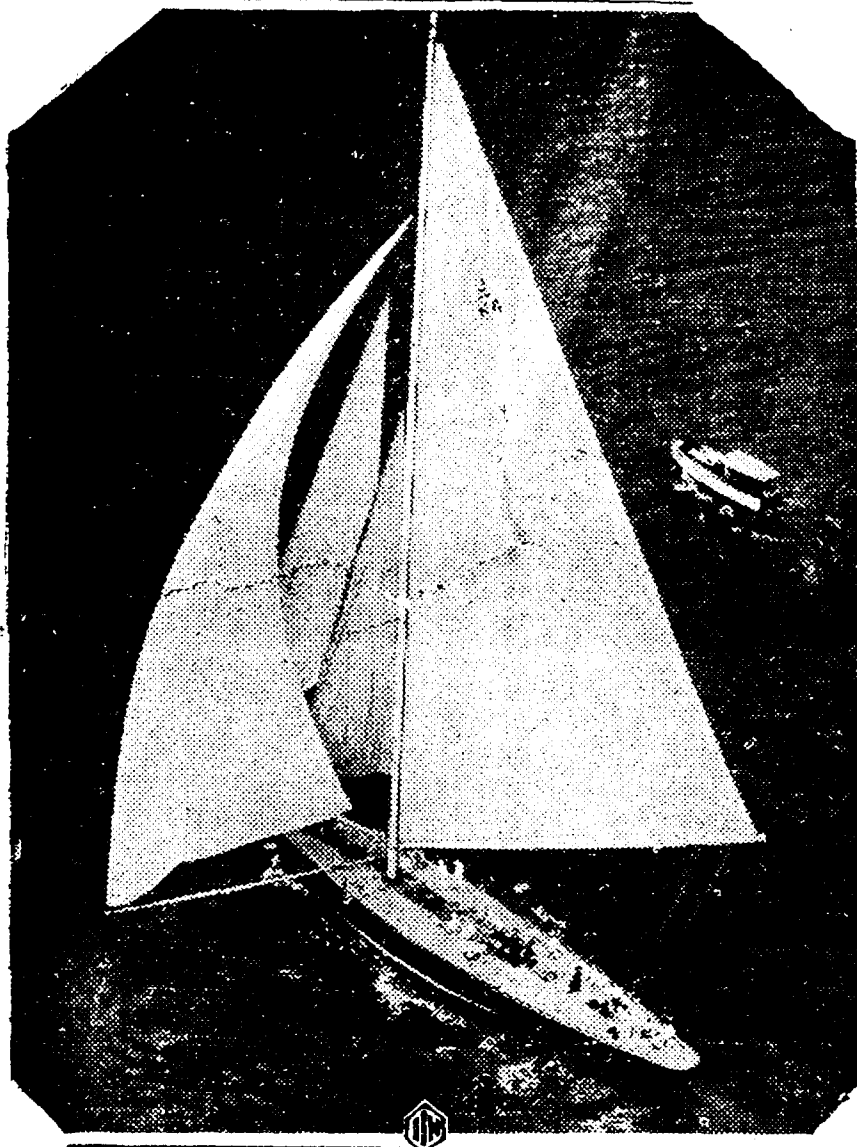

Manager Cum Robinson will call on either Loring Davis or Merle Davis to toss them for his team with the former favored. George Vierehorne, regular Mecca hurler, has been ill and it is understood he has been instructed by his physician to remain off the diamond the remainder of the summer. The rider Davis pitched fine ball a couple of years ago and is still a smart hurler so may cause the Oils some trouble; it is believed he will receive the call.

Just how Robinson will handle the remainder of his lineup is uncertain. Kline will be on first base and Weller on third. It is probable that Merle Davis will be at shortstop and Hickey at second but Earl Radcliff who played second this week in Hickey's absence may get the call for that position. Wilson will be in left, Mettler in center and Bunk Radcliff in right providing Earl Radcliff plays second. Should Hickey go to second Radcliff would take center field replacing Mettler. Gordon will catch.

Endeavour Spreads Her Sails

A remarkable new picture of Endeavour, the yacht with which T. O. M. Sopwith hopes to win for Great Britain the America's cup, is shown above. The photo was taken from an airplane as Endeavour sailed gracefully on the waters off Newport, R. I., where the international races will be held.

Carl Purcell, who gave the Given Oils four hits in a shutout this week, to carry them to victory. Purcell's tosses will be handled by Dick Robinson. Only one change will be found in the Oil lineup with Dory Courtwright going to right field in place of Leroy Moore who tore ligaments in his knee sliding to second base against the Givens Wednesday evening. Gorb will be on first, Merriam second, Steele shortstop, Walker third, Barnes left, H. White center, and Courtwright right.

The winner of this game will take on the Container Corporation for the city championship, the series possibly starting Wednesday evening with the second game Friday and the remainder of games needed the next week. The championship will go to the first team winning three games.

Four umpires will be selected by Roy Norris, Container manager, and the manager of the winning team in the second half play-off, either Cum Robinson or George Crum.

Ohio Mayor Facing Embezzlement Count

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Warrants charging embezzlement will be served today against former Mayor W. F. Hurst, of New Philadelphia. Clayton Renner, city solicitor, announced shortly before noon today.

Renner said that W. A. Benson, service director during Mayor Hurst's regime, also will be taken into custody. The warrants against the former city officials, Benson said, were the result of the report of state examiners, released today, charging that the city of New Philadelphia has $421,430 coming from Mayor Hurst and $208,677 from its former service director.

CULLOP HELPS "BIRD" CAUSE

Drives Ball Hard as Columbus Takes First Game of Road Journey.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 13.—The Columbus Red Birds, who started their road trip yesterday by handing the St. Paul double A club a 7 to 5 defeat, today were riding high, wide and handsome in the first saddle of the American Association pennant chase.

They were a full game ahead of Minneapolis in second place and three games ahead of Indianapolis in third place. The Birds were to meet the Apostles again today and try to pile up their ninth straight victory.

Nick Cullop, Red Bird slugger, was the hero of yesterday's encounter. With his mates trailing 5 to 4 in the seventh, he poled a home run to score a man ahead of him and put his team into the lead.

Both teams used plenty of pitchers to make room for pinch hitters. Heise, Sims and Klinger worked for the Red Birds and Thomas, Hutchinson, Erickson and Phelps saw mound service for the Saints. Sims was credited with the win and Hutchinson marked up with the loss.

Miss Regina Mack, N. Court-st, returned Friday from a week's visit with her aunt, Mrs. John Gill, Columbus.

ROWE IS HERO; BLANKS YANKS TAKING SECOND

Detroit Comes Back After Gomez Calcimine; Lead Is Increased.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Schoolboy Rowe, the long, lean ace of the Detroit pitching staff, is a lad with ambitions. Lusting them in the order of their importance, to him they are: (1) to marry a little school-teacher, down Arkansas way; (2) to win 20 straight games this year, to beat Rube Marquard's record; (3) to pitch the Tigers into a pennant and (4) to beat Carl Hubbell and the Giants in the world series.

No. 1 is a cinch. No. 2 needs a little luck as well as great pitching. No. 3 is reasonably certain and No. 4 is still in the lap of the Gods.

FOURTEENTH IN ROW

The lanky rightbender moved a step closer to all four ambitions yesterday when he chalked up his 14th victory and his 14th in a row at the expense of the Yanks.

Only three days ago he had let the Yanks down with four hits and yesterday after Lefty Gomez had shut-out the Tigers, 5 to 0 to even the series, the Schoolboy put his team in front again by shutting out the Yanks, 2 to 0, with three hits.

Rowe had to be good for Jimmy Deshong yielded but five hits, three of which were bunched in the second inning for both Tigers runs. The Yanks bunched four of their six hits off Vic Sorrell in the first inning of the opener for three runs and made their other two on Lazzeri's homer in the sixth.

The Tigers came to town leading the pack by 4 1-2 games. They left with a 5 1-2 game lead, which should be more than enough to carry them until they get home.

About This And That

BY THE
SECOND GUESSER

THAT DIZZY DEAN WITH all his hurrying ability is a "sissy" is now an established fact—Suspended indefinitely by the Cardinal management for skipping an exhibition game in Detroit, the Dizzy one ran protestingly to Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball. Landis has called a hearing in St. Louis Monday at which time both sides will present their claims.

Dean has this to say: "What business did they have suspending me? I was willing to pay my fine like a man for skipping that exhibition game in Detroit. But then they told me I was under definite suspension. They have no rights anywhere in baseball law to do that. And Judge Landis will tell them so."

Dean's little brother, Paul, has seen the error of his ways, has signed an agreement taking the blame for the incident and was credited with winning a ball game Friday when he blanked the Phillies for seven innings during which time his mates piled up a nice lead for him.

THE FEAT PERFORMED BY Schoolboy Rowe, Detroit ace, in blanking the slugging Yankees two games in a row must go down in history—That the McCarthy men are slipping is evidenced by the fact that a couple of years ago they went through a season without drawing a blank—Entire credit for the showing of Rowe and the entire Detroit club belongs to Manager Mickey Cochrane, and Connie Mack who openly predicted the pennant for the Tigers when he sold them Cochrane last winter.

RECTOR'S CHARGES BRING PORT PROBE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 13.—Two separate probes into the operation of the city-owned airfield, Port Columbus, were to be speeded up today after a state examiner's report to the bureau of inspection of public offices added new fuel to the movements.

Examiner George B. Rector, formerly of Williamsport, reported that the manager of the airport repaired his residence with funds set aside for the port restaurant. The finding totaled only $128 and Rector said that notwithstanding the fact that some small transactions at the airfield "could not be condoned nor approved" there was "no concerted effort" to defraud the city.

Ruhlman, Bolender At Church Meeting

Rev. C. W. Ruhlman, pastor of the Evangelical church, and C. A. Bolender will leave Tuesday to attend the annual Ohio conference of Evangelical churches to be held from Wednesday until Sunday in the West Fourteenth-st church in Cleveland. Bishop Dunlap, of Cleveland, will preside at the meeting.

Delegates will be elected at this conference to attend the general conference to be held at Akron in October.

Ohio farmers now have about 42,000 more breeding ewes than they had last fall. But owing to a smaller number of lambs saved, the lamb crop is expected to be only one per cent larger.

One of Mickey's best moves was trading Johnny Stone for Goose Goslin, who has been clubbing that apple like wildfire.

The novelty of a polo team composed of cowboys will be offered at Harbor Hills polo field Sunday afternoon, when this popular resort presents its final Centennial event. The game will be between the Harbor Hills polo team and one composed of western riders from a rodeo.

Previous to the polo game there will be a rodeo with trick riding, broncho busting, steer bucking and sharp shooting, by men and women crack shots. Harry Freeman, the guiding genius of Harbor Hills is expecting the largest crowd of the Centennial season at this resort on Sunday.

Driver to Recover, Physician Declares

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 13.—As Donald L. Campbell, 32-year-old truck driver entered the 13th day of his involuntary talking marathon, Dr. C. S. Jackson, the attending physician, today announced that the "talking sickness" victim would recover.

He cited two other cases at Columbus during the past score years where a 16-year-old girl talked for seven months, and an adult man spoke incessantly for 11 days. Both completely recovered, he said.

Dr. Jackson believed that it would be only a matter of time until Campbell dropped off into a sleep from which he would awaken cured. Campbell is believed to be suffering from a fractured skull which has temporarily severed the coordination between his brain and tongue.

A transcript from Justice L. M. Harsh's Scioto-two court was filed in common pleas court Saturday for settlement. The plaintiff is Dr. R. S. Hosler, of Ashville, who seeks a judgment of $123.60, allegedly due on an account from A. M. Martindale, of Scioto-two.

SABELLI A ON RETURN

ROME, Aug. 13.—Captain Sabelli and Captain George E. Sabelli flew here from New York today on the first leg of their return flight to America. Under a full moon they arrived in their big Bellanca plane, "Leonardo Da Vinci," before dawn. BLANTON CAUGHT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 13.—Melvin Blanton, 23, of Camden, Ohio, who made a spectacular escape July 20 last in a rowboat from an army prison at Governors Island, N. Y., and two companions one of which was said by police to have aided him in the get-away, were held in the Marion county jail here today. The trio, all charged with several robberies in Indiana and Ohio, were arrested in downtown Indianapolis last Thursday for a traffic violation. They gave fictitious names and were not recognized until a police showup was held and their finger prints checked.

"...Ah well, perhaps it's worth while. If one needs Jimmy Cag-
